New York Saturday evening was that Liverpool would be lower 3-84d, instead of which it came in 3 better. There was no response either here or in New York, as it was learned that Liverpool had adas it was learned that Liverpool had advanced on reports of a cold wave on this side. Reports of frost sent from here and New York and other points caused a decided improvement in New York of 15 points, to which we responded in part. It was soon learned, however, that these frost reports were unfounded. New York lost 3 or 5 points and this market 6 to 7 points of the advance. It seems to be a weather market against the large movement which at et against the large movement which at to day has been mostly local, outsiders seeming to prefer to await the bureau before doing anything further. A London Opinion.

Special to the Gazette. cial News says of Kansas and Texas 2's: "Unless the increase in gross receipts for 1801 be more than absorbed by increased operating expenses, which seems out of the question, it looks as if the income bonds were in sight of their interest, which by the way is non-cumulative for a little less han four years, and as they then become : fixed charge they are really a promising in-vestment. They are certain to receive a least a part of their interest before they be come a fixed charge and then they are bound to get the whole 4 per cent, as they have every power of a mortgage. At about 46 they are perhaps the cheapest specula-tive investment on the whole list of Ameri-can bonds."

New York, Oct. 5.—The stock market to-day exhibited a heavy tone under the persistent hammering to which it was subted by room traders, who seem to think that because a decided rise has taken place between Friday and this morning there should be a chance to reap some immediate profits by turning prices. Confidence, how-ever, proved to be such that new buyers came in from every directica, and the downward movement which prevailed dur-ing most of the afternoon was slow. Not losses are in most cases insignificant.

The demand for stocks was very heavy it opening and the pressure to sell from both short sellers and realizations met with resistance which resulted in the advance-ment of quotations during the first hour of from ½ to 1½ per cent. BONES EJECTED FROM HER BODY

Miss Sarah Heas of Tennessee Loses 600 Pieces-New Ones Appear.

Bristol (Tenn.) Special to Baltimore Sun. Dr. B. F. Bell of Parrettsville, Tenn., on Saturday read before the East Tennessee nedical society a paper on a wonderful case of exfoliation, or the ejection of bones from he human body. The victim of the pecu-liar disease is a lady named Sarah Heas, seventy-one years of age, residing in Caney Branch. About twenty-one years ago the doctor was first called to his patient, and since that time he has given her ailment close attention. During all these years more than six hundred bones have been expelled from different parts of Miss Heas' body. This exfoliation, Dr. Bell said, has taken place without pain or inflammation, and soon after the ejection of the bones the sores would quickly heal up and nothing more would be noticed until another batch of bones would start out. The disease first began on the index finger of her left hand. Every bone in that hand disappeared and new ones took their places.

The next member of the body attacked was the arm: then the shoulder-blade, and eventy-one years of age, residing in Caney was the arm; then the shoulder-blade, and then the lower jaw-bone. Some of the bones worked out through the throat, and others penetrated the ear. The doctor said others penetrated the ear. The doctor said the process worked so rapidly that he had sat near the patient many times and watched the bones as they came out with-out any assistance whatever except of nature itself. Some of them were six inches in length and one inch in diameter, while others were smaller. They types of inches in length and one inch in diameter, while others were smaller. They were of every conceivable shape.

When the doctor presented them to the fraternity for examination, they appeared to be the contents of an unearthed coffin. But few of those present thought that they were anything else but bones from some lower animal. Dr. Bell says he will send the collection to an ostrological expert for examination. It has been six months since the first paper was read to the society on the first paper was read to the society on this remarkable case, and during this lapse of time the ejection has been going on at a rapid pace.

In the latter part of his paper the doctor said: "Three weeks ago I called to see the patient. While I was present she began to complain of severe pains in the regions of the coronoid process and extending to the ear. In less than five minutes from the began to the part of the coronoid process. ear. In less than five minutes from the beginning of pain a section of bone from the lower jaw, one inch long and one-quarter of an inch wide, passed through the intervening flesh and ligaments and presented itself thus entirely disengaged in the external left ear. Simultaneous with this was a similar section in the right ear, accompanied with a thin bone."

The occtor concluded his paper with the following statement: "The lady has resided in the same place for the past twenty-one years. She is visited by many persons who come to learn the real truth of the case, and they all go away declaring that it case, and they all go away declaring that it is the most wonderful phenomenon that has ever been heard of in this or any other land. The woman travels but little, and has never been on board a railroad train. She is well connected, having relatives in different parts of Tennessee.

A BARBER RESTRAINED

less the Court Says So-Suits Filed. Special to the Gazette.

WEATHERFORD, PARKER COUNTY, TEX., Oct. 5.—To-day R. L. Smith obtained a temporary injunction against Gus Jensen, restraining him from engaging in the business or trade of a barber, either for himness or trade self or in connection with another. The ground on which the injunction was obtained is, that in April last Smith purchased the barber shop, furniture and fixtures of the said Jensen, and that Jensen signed an agreement that he would not engage in the business or trade of a barber in Weatherford for three years. ford for three years. It is now claimed that he has engaged in the business, but the defendant claims that he has not engaged in the business, but is employed by P ter Cook, who he claims has engaged in the business.

Special to the Gazette.

Uvalde, Uvalde County, Tex., Oct. 5.— After eight day's confinement the jury in the Logan-Biggs case was discharged. The jury agreed on his guilt, but asked the judge to assess his penalty, which could not be done. There was only one penalty to assess, the death penalty but it was forbidden by the defendant's age, one juror having refused to assess any penalty at all.
